WHAT IS KOMOVERSE?

As one of the very first NFT-driven gaming platforms built on the Solana blockchain, Komoverse aims to revolutionize the gaming industry, firstly in Southeast Asia and then globally. Users can truly own NFT collectibles and have access to the P2E (Play-to-Earn) game within the world of Komodo Metaverse. Komoverse is a PvP (Player versus Player) strategy turn based auto-battle game in which players strategize their character's moves on a chessboard according to their attributes based on randomly selected cards that are given to them. Players will then receive XP (Experience Points) after battling and they could then get daily rewards according to their respective rankings on the daily leaderboard.

Other than battling on the chessboard, players can also collect and breed their NFT collectibles. Komoverse presents a premier opportunity for you to adopt these rare collectibles and be rewarded for your skill and playtime while also utilizing the power of decentralized ownership that blockchain technology delivers. Once you acquire a Komoverse NFT, it is 100% owned by you and no other identical NFT can be duplicated or imitated by any other party.
